

We want to make experiences of discrimination and the realities of life of those discriminated visible and expose extreme right-wing activities in Berlin. The results of the register will be presented to local politicians, residents and others engaged in the social and political life of the city. They can then respond proactively with political measures.

However, we cannot carry out this important task without your participation; the registries can only include incidents in their documentation if they are reported. So please report your experiences and observations to us via email, phone or Twitter:
